Slab Large Format Tiles

Tile slabs beautifully showcase the veining and patterns you would find in marble, the nuances of stone and the distinct properties of concrete to create a dramatic finish for both commercial and domestic interior design. The large sizes can offer a seamless transition between walls and floors and lend a visual continuity to any surface. As there will be fewer grout lines and the tiles can be fitted with a minimum gap of just 1mm any lines will be less perceptible contributing to the streamlined aesthetic.

Mirage have a vast range of colour options in concrete resin, marble, metal and stone effect. Many of these are available in a range of sizes with a thickness of 6, 9, 12 and 20mm to suit a variety of applications from floors and wall cladding, counter tops in kitchens and bathrooms, shower trays, shelves, benches, furniture and much more.

Slab Sizes Available 120x120 / 160x160 / 120x240 / 120x278 / 160x320cm

Slip Resistance Guide

Tiles with slip resistance are required for commercial projects and outdoor tiles but are also suitable for areas of the home where wet floors may pose a safety risk. There are several types of slip resistance tests and rating with details below and the experienced sales team will be able to advise you on the best options for your needs.

SLIP RESISTANT 'R' RATING

'R' value indicate the level of slip resistance of a tile. It stands for 'ramp test'. This 'R' value ranges from R9, which has a small degree of slip resistance, up to R13, which is the highest slip resistance.

R9, R10 and R11 Slip Stop are suitable for walkways, halls, conservatories, kitchens and bathrooms. A minimum rating of R10 is required for use in wetrooms but we highly recommend R11 rated tiles.

Standard tiles with slip resistance higher than R10 can make daily cleaning and maintenance more difficult, therefore these are not recommended for typical domestic settings, however R11 Slip Stop Smooth ranges are suitable as they have a smooth finish. R11 is required for outdoor use and may also be required in commercial settings or some grant aided domestic projects.

R11 SLIP STOP SMOOTH

When wet the R11 Slip Stop Smooth tile surface combines the high performance of an R11 anti slip tile with a soft, smooth texture which is easy to clean and maintain.

BAREFOOT

Barefoot classification of floors looks at the slip resistance of tiles tested on an inclined surface with a pre-determined slope angle and they are then classified according to rating groups A, B and C. Barefoot "Class A" are suitable for barefoot walkways, mainly dry areas; "Class B" are suitable for showers, pool surrounds and "Class C" are suitable for steps into water and walk-through pools or similar. Class C is the highest anti slip rating

PENDULUM TEST VALUE PTV

This test measures dynamic coefficient of friction (CoF) which is designed to replicate a pedestrian heel strike, the point at which most slips occur. It can be used to accurately test the slip potential on clean and dry or contaminated floors. Higher PTVs may be required if walking on a non-level surface, a surface where pedestrians turn or otherwise higher risk surface, for example stairs, wet areas, swimming pools or sporting areas.

PTV slip probabilities if straight walking on a horizontal surface are

- PTV of 20 indicates a 1 in 2 probability of a slip
- PTV of 24 indicates a 1 in 20 probability of a slip
- PTV of 27 indicates a 1 in 200 probability of a slip
- PTV of 36 indicates a 1 in 1 million probability of a slip

STEPWISE TECHNOLOGY

The tiles produced using this new technology have a high degree of slip resistance giving you a surface which is soft to the touch and easy to clean since it has no superficial roughness. Stepwise is applied to the body of the tile prior to it being glazed and fired rather than to the surface of the tile which assists and enhances the final look, surface finish and slip resistant nature of the tile.

Tile Terms

PORCELAIN

Porcelain is strong, durable and water resistant making it ideal for high traffic areas in homes or commercial settings. It also offers amazing opportunities for creative design and can mimic the subtle nuances of natural stone, wood and other time worn materials.

GLOSSY PORCELAIN

A gloss tile has a shiny glaze layer applied to the tile. Glossy porcelain is not as durable as polished porcelain and could be liable to marking or scratches in high traffic areas.

POLISHED PORCELAIN

Porcelain naturally has a rough finish but it can be mechanically polished to produce a high gloss shine. Some polished porcelain is pre-sealed and some requires sealing to protect the gloss surface. Tiles supplied by Tubs & Tiles will be pre-sealed.

SEMI POLISHED OR LAPPATO

A Lappato finish is achieved by polishing the tile's surface but not long enough to attain the luster of a typical polished tile resulting in a tile that reflects some light but also has some slip resistant properties. The level of polishing varies between ranges and manufacturer.

DOUBLE LOADED PORCELAIN

Double loaded porcelain is pressed twice under extreme heat for a longer period of time resulting in an exceptionally strong tile with a finish that is stain, chemical, frost and abrasion resistant.

NON RECTIFIED

This refers to any tile that has natural edges that have not been mechanically straightened after cutting meaning that tile does not have 100% sharp edge. Larger grout lines will need to be used in order to fit these tiles together, fill in the gaps, and hide their little differences.

RECTIFIED

Rectified tiles are cut after they are fired to produce a sharp, precise edge – this is ideal for large format tiles and when you want the grout lines to be less visible.

FULL BODY PORCELAIN

The raw materials are blended, pressed and fired to get full body or through body tiles which means patterns, veins and grains are visible from the surface through the body of the tile making it durable, hard wearing and suitable for both domestic & commercial use.

OUTDOOR PORCELAIN

Standard 10mm and extra thick 20mm porcelain tiles with a R11 anti-slip rating can be used outdoors provided they are fixed with suitable adhesive. Tiles will not fade, are frost and moisture resistant, and easy to clean and maintain as they resist stains, moss and mould growth.

GLAZED TILES

The porcelain or ceramic has a glaze applied to the surface before firing. Glazed porcelain can be single colour or feature design or patterns which can be applied by printer providing infinite possibilities.

CERAMIC

Ceramic tiles are made from natural clay, sand and water and have a glaze with the colour and design applied before being fired at high temperature. Ceramic is ideal for tiles in bathrooms and as a kitchen backsplash. Ceramic is usually less expensive than porcelain.

WHITE OR RED BODY TILES

This refers to the colour of the clay body which is underneath the coloured or decorative glaze. The colour is determined by where the clay is sourced. White body tiles are strong and have a low water absorption rate making it ideal for bathroom walls and floors.

NATURAL STONE

Natural stone has a warm, tactile look with each piece having distinctive veins, swirls and striations created by nature to make it a very special addition to any design. Natural stone includes marble, travertine, limestone, slate and granite and with careful installation, maintenance and cleaning your tiles will age beautifully as only natural stone can.

BOCCIARDATA OR STRUCTURED

This refers to porcelain or natural stone tiles which have been processed to have a textured finish that is somewhat rough and can lend a time worn matt look. This finish offers slip resistance.

ENCAUSTIC STYLE

This style replicates the traditional manufacturing technique whereby the pattern is inlaid into the tile body by using different colours of clay.

MAJOLICA STYLE

This style mimics the traditional manufacturing technique whereby a thick glaze was applied to tiles onto which intricate colour and patterns were applied - the thickness gives a 3D appearance to the tile. Eden & Frame by Ragno are inspired by this style.

Marble Look Porcelain

Marble is one of nature's most beautiful natural materials and has been adorning buildings across the world for centuries. The innovations in tile design and production techniques mean that porcelain can now accurately reflect the depth of character, the subtle variations and the nuances of colour that you would find in marble while also offering the durability and strength of porcelain.

Large format tiles look wonderful in marble collections and the flexibility of porcelain means that the tiles can be used not only as floor and wall covering but also in other areas of the home such as shower trays, countertops, sinks, seating, shelving and more.

Marble effect tiles can be paired with the warmth of wood or combined with stone effect tiles in a complementary tone to create unique and distinctive finishes in any room.

Elysian Travertini by Mirage

Travertine Look Porcelain

Travertine is a limestone of phenomenal beauty, specifically formed around natural springs. Our collection of Travertine look porcelain tiles replicates this beautiful stone for your home in a material that is strong and durable, without the high maintenance and fragility associated with the original Travertine limestone, bringing timeless beauty to any indoor or outdoor application in your home without the hassle.

Depending on the cut of the stone, there are two different looks that can be achieved.

The first, displaying beautiful, delicate nuances of parallel veining and stunning metallic hues settled in sedimentary layers. This look creates a beautiful feature, especially on walls and fireplaces, creating a focus in the room. The subtle lines and chromatic range can be utilised to direct the eye across the space in creative ways.

When cut against the grain, a balanced, soft contrast is achieved which emphasises the authentic beauty of the stone whilst creating a uniform, harmonious look.

ELYSIAN

Elysian provides a look that is rich in surface and material details with balanced colours, delicate nuances, reflections and mineral effects that make this collection truly distinctive.

ATTICO

Travertine marble is a true phenomenon of nature and has been the inspiration for the Attico tile range. SIENA

The Siena series takes us back to the origins in Tuscany, Italy, where traditional, pure travertine was used in construction work and is synonymous with luxury and majesty. The colours take us on a journey through three types of travertine: Laisa, the most homogeneous option; Classico, a cross-cut version; and Toscana with a more unusual, worn composition that takes us back to ancient Rome.

Clay is a traditional material in tile manufacturing and this heritage is reflected in the contemporary designs which are created with the strength of porcelain.

CLAYTON

The Clayton range has six neutral earthy tones, both light and dark, that reflect the depth and ever changing patterning of concrete with a realistic textured look. Metal Look Tiles

Metal is a distinctive material in architecture as its character is defined by the environmental conditions which can result in a myriad of variations caused by oxidation and the inevitable wear of time.

This intriguing look is captured in the ranges of metal look tiles which showcase the variations in the iridescence and wear that you would expect to see in the natural materials.

CHROME

The Chrome collection is inspired by the fusion of metals that evokes the world of industrial-style interior design. Each piece, with its marked nuanced shading, embellishes floors and walls with subtle metallic reflections that imbue every room with character.

Terrazzo Style Porcelain

Terrazzo is a traditional style of tile which has made a massive resurgence in popularity over recent times. Terrazzo tiles are traditionally made using chips of materials set in concrete and polished to give a smooth surface. The chips were usually marble or stone but can be glass, quartz, shell or metal.

Modern production techniques mean that the Terrazzo effect can be faithfully produced in porcelain for a strong and durable finish that resists stains and is easy to maintain. Porcelain can also have anti-slip qualities making it suitable for all areas of the home and for use outdoors.

CROCCANTE

Croccante has a detailed and varied style that is distinctive yet has a delicacy and harmony that looks great when used alone or paired with other tiles from the range.

Outdoor Tiles

Porcelain tiles have revolutionised how we can finish terraces and patios offering a host of design possibilities while also providing functional benefits that ensure your outdoor area is easy to maintain and will look wonderful for years to come. An R11 anti-slip rating is required for outdoor use.

Indoor / Outdoor Design

Indoor and outdoor tiles from the same range will allow for an attractive continuity between the two spaces, seamlessly extending your living space to the outdoors. Many ranges have an R9 or R10 slip rated version for use indoors which can be paired with a matching outdoor tile with R11 anti-slip finish.

Tile Thickness

20mm extra thick tiles are designed exclusively for outdoor use while tiles with a standard 10mm thickness can also be used outdoors if they have an anti-slip rating of R11 and are fixed with suitable adhesive.

ICARIA

Icaria showcases neutral tones which are skillfully combined with a subtle texture to create an intriguing finish that reflects the natural beauty and variety of natural stone.

Adhesive & Leveler

Choosing the correct surface preparation products and adhesive is important to ensure your tiles will be fitted correctly and will continue to look beautiful for years to come.

1 PRIMER

Preparation is key when tiling to ensure a high quality, long lasting result from your tiles. BAL primer is used to prepare the surface and increase the bond of the adhesive, leveling and waterproofing compounds onto the surface. Substrates that may be porous or impervious, very smooth or rough, or dusty and powdery require a primer.

2 UNCOUPLING MATTING

Protects floor tiling against cracks, fractures and other damage caused by stresses and lateral movement in the substrate, it is suitable for most problematic floor substrates including timber floors, new screeds and floors with under-tile heating systems.

3 LEVELING & SMOOTHING COMPOUNDS

Bal Level Max is an all-in-one floor leveler with Fibre Strand Technology (FST) for added flexibility and strength, self-smoothing capability, and low shrinkage. BAL Level Max has a maximum bed depth up to 80mm in a single application – the largest in the market. It is suitable for use over timber at 3mm, accepts foot traffic in three hours and can be tiled after only four hours.

4 WATER PROOFING

BAL Tank-it and Waterproofing Kits provide total waterproof protection which is ideal for power showers, wet rooms and total immersion areas.

5 WALL & FLOOR TILE ADHESIVE

Adhesive creates the foundation for your tiles and we can offer a comprehensive range of market leading innovative solutions from BAL. The expert team at Tubs & Tiles will advise on how to choose the correct tile adhesive according to the tile type, size and purpose.

6 ADHESIVE FOR LARGE FORMAT FLOOR TILES

Large format tiles have specific requirements to ensure correct adhesion and a beautiful long lasting finish. BAL XL One flexible floor tile adhesive is recommended for large format floor tiles to prevent problems such as lippage, hollow sounds, tile cracking or de-bonding over time.

7 GROUT & SILICONE

BAL Micromax 3 is a universal grout which can be used for grout joints as narrow as 1mm and as wide as 20mm. It is superfine, consistent, strong and flexible to avoid shrinkage, slumping or cracking and sets within 2-3 hours for fast track tiling completion. Micromax contains built-in Microban® anti-mould and anti-mildew protection. Matching Micromax silicone and sealants available (excluding Vivid Views colours).
